

The 7th ACM Celebration of Women in Computing womENCourage 2020 aims to celebrate diversity in our discipline and to encourage women to pursue their professional development in computing. It is hosted by ADA University in Baku, Azerbaijan. See <https://womencourage.acm.org/2020/>.

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

We welcome poster submissions that present ideas and research in any area of computer science and its applications. Authors, including students at all levels and early practitioners, may submit ongoing, new work or versions of their previously published work.

One-page extended abstract of the poster following the ACM SIGCONF template must be submitted as a PDF file through EasyChair. More information can be found at <https://womencourage.acm.org/submit-your-poster/>, including examples from previous years. Poster abstract due: 1 May.

We also invite proposals for technical workshops or tutorials on any topics related to computer science research and practice. Each workshop or tutorial can be offered in English, in either a long (3 hours) or a short (1.5 hours) format.

Submission(s) should be sent to womencourage2020_workshops@acm.org, and use the Workshop Proposal Template, available at <https://womencourage.acm.org/propose-a-workshop/>.

Workshop proposals due: 15 June.
